

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A device for simplifying synthetic audio processing is disclosed, which establishes a wave-gain look-up table to store the relation of voltages for a wave to related gain values. During a synthetic audio processing, required multiplication operation in the prior art is replaced by addition of the gain values in the invention, thereby simplifying the synthetic audio processing.